

Educational Offerings

Reg F's Impacts on Purchasing Online Installment Loans

November 17, 2021 – 9:00am PT/12:00pm ET

One (1) RMAI Education Credit

The CFPB's Debt Collection Rule (Regulation F) becomes effective November 30, 2021. Reg F clarifies various types of debt collection communications and disclosures and provides additional definitions and interpretations around harassment or abuse, false or misleading representations, and unfair practices. Have you considered how the new Rule impacts Fintech loans differently than other asset classes? During this session, our panelists will walk us through the implications of the new Rule for online installment loans that you may want to consider during the final days of preparation for Reg F.

Pricing:

Member: Free

Non – Member: $94

Register

Course Presenters:

Jordan Dinos is Senior Corporate Counsel at Resurgent Capital Services. Her practice includes regulatory compliance, deal work, digital engagement, bankruptcy, and general legal support for strategic and operational initiatives.

Rebekah Luebcke is a Director of Operations for Crown Asset Management, LLC. In her role, she oversees the team of Relationship Managers who support both the Litigation and Agency networks that service Crown's consumer credit portfolios, empowering performance through data and systems education and navigation of portfolio nuances. Her team serves as a liaison between and advocate for the servicers and the various teams within the organization. Before her work with Crown, Rebekah spent nearly 15 years gaining experience in the collections, payments processing, auto lending, and revenue cycle management industries.

Greg Woodford is General Counsel of Absolute Resolutions Corp. and focuses on the analysis of regulatory compliance standards, the guidance of business and operational functions of the company, development of strategies to comply with those regulatory standards, and general risk analysis and mitigation.